SCHOOL CHILDREN AT OLYMPIC.
St. Leo's Pupils Will Appear in Annual Entertainment.

St. Leo's school will give its annual entertainment at the Olympic Theater this afternoon at 2 o'clock. Music and dramatic numbers comprise an interesting program which will continue for two hours or more.

Pupils of rooms Nos. 1, 2, 3 and 4 will sing the opening chorus. The next number will be a long pole catenched drill by pupils of room No. 1. Grecian wrestling exercises will be given by the boys of rooms Nos. 1, 2 and 3. This will be followed by exercises by the girls of rooms Nos. 5 and 6. P. Schaefer will render a solo and the boys of rooms No. 6 and 8 will appear as the "funny little folks from Fairland."

An operetta entitled "The National Flower" will be rendered by the scholars of kindergarten pupils taking part in the singing scene. This will be followed by a sketch, "The Spinning Wheel," participated in by the older pupils.

WORSE EVERY YEAR.
Plenty of St. Louis Readers Have the Same Experience.

Don't neglect an aching back. It will get worse every year. The aching back is really kidney ache. To cure the back you must cure the kidneys. If you don't, other kidneys will follow—Urinary troubles, diabetes, Bright's disease. A St. Louis citizen tells you how—the cure is easy.

A Christian, carpenter, of No. 4400 Cottage avenue, says: "Any one who follows my calling, receives the aching back, but when for at least three years you bring any extra strain on that part of your anatomy you feel aches and pains. You naturally are anxious to get rid of them. Ever on the lookout for something to stop the trouble, particularly so when in its later stages too frequent action of the kidney secretions became observable. I chanced one evening to see an advertisement about Doan's Kidney Pills. Next day I sent to the Doan-Wilson Drug Co. for a box and commenced the treatment. It cured me. I know Doan's Kidney Pills act as represented, or I could not be induced to recommend them publicly."

For sale by all dealers. Price, 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the United States. Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

SAYS STRENUOUS LIFE KILLS AMERICANS

Doctor Osborne Points Out the Harmful Elements of Drugs and Automobiles.

BRAINS AT CONSTANT TENSION.

Declares "Vaso-Motor Contraction Check" Newest Danger, but German Scientist Disagrees With Him.

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.
Washington, May 30.—Doctor Oliver T. Osborne's paper on "The Strenuous Life" led to the conclusion that Americans live at too fast a pace. This was admitted by nearly all the doctors present at the American Medical congress, but nobody had a remedy to suggest.

Doctor Osborne said the strenuousness of the life of the average American business man has a tendency to increase cardiac and arterial weaknesses, and that another cause for the many breakdowns is the constantly increasing and reckless use of coal-tar products for the relief of pain.

"We hardly realize this daily tension and the effect on our hearts unless we analyze it," said Doctor Osborne, who comes from New Haven. "We rise on time in the morning, whether by an alarm clock or the call of a servant, or by habit, eat breakfast and read the papers on time, a clock in every room and a watch frequently in our hand. We then, on time, meet office and outside engagements, college appointments, consultations, always and constantly carefully predicting the amount of time that will be required and timing our next engagement by this decision."

BUSY AMERICAN LIFE.
"During the day we rush up long flights of stairs or take elevators that go up with a rush and stop with a plunge. If we drive, either horse or automobile, our hearts stop, jump and receive the vaso-motor contraction check, when, by the carelessness of pedestrians or bicyclists, we are suddenly anxious and we do them an injury. If we are in a car or vehicle managed by some one else we often receive the same real or imaginary shock to our nervous system and hearts. If we are selling we slight native hearts to relate our wares. That is my idea of a strenuous life."

"This describes the life of most of the men and women of our rapid age and, I might say, the young children, see too much, do too much, are amused too much, receive too much of the complete school too much, are taught too much, are awake too much, for the welfare of their nervous system."

These are Doctor Osborne's ideas. Nearly all the noted doctors at the congress coincide. One who doesn't is Professor Hansker of Vienna.

PROFESSOR DISAGREES.
"Tut, tut," said Professor Hansker, "I don't think this strenuous life of you Americans is killing any one. I confess I like the American way. The hurry, the hustle, as you call it, does not, in my opinion, kill. It is the distance the horse is driven, the purpose of your being here, that is my idea of a strenuous life."

Professor Hansker, said Doctor Matthew D. Mann of Buffalo, one of the surgeons who attended President McKinley after he was shot. "That is my idea of a strenuous life."

The constant nervous shocks to which Americans subject themselves have the same effect as fast driving on a high-strung horse. Any owner or driver will tell you it is not the distance the horse is driven, but the speed at which he goes that does it.

"Americans could work longer hours without harming themselves half as much as they do by their comparative idleness, which they spend in a terrific effort to accomplish everything their brains have been able to think of."

INDIANA TO REVIVE ROMAN CHARIOT RACING AT FAIR.

General Lew Wallace Will Help to Present Feature Suggested by Stage Production of "Ben Hur."

REPUBLIC SPECIAL.
Indianapolis, Ind., May 30.—The State Board of Agriculture to-day entered into a contract with Thomas Ensley for an elaborate revival of the Roman four-horse chariot races during the State Fair.

The board has authorized a purse of $1,000, $100 to go to the winner and second, and $100 to be divided among the four horses. The rules will require chariots built on the Roman lines, Roman style of harness and governed by the rules of the Circus Maximus and Antioch will obtain. Entries by offering a side bet of $1,000 on the four, which have already been selected for the race. Both Ensley and members of the board have been in correspondence with
